3 DAY SOSSUSVLEI FLY-IN SAFARI

The Sossusvlei Fly-in Safari is a flexible and convenient excursion into the world's oldest desert and one of the country's most sparsely inhabited regions. The Namib Desert features mesmerising vistas of shimmering mountains, parched plains, petrified dunes and more space and solitude than you can conceive of.

Duration
3 Days

Day 1: Windhoek to Sossusvlei
Commencing at approximately 8 am, you will be collected from any hotel or lodge located in Windhoek and transported to Eros Airport for a direct flight to a lodge in the Sossusvlei region. The scenic flight will offer views of the bushland and arid Namib Desert.
The arrival in the Sossusvlei area is anticipated around 12 pm, subject to weather conditions, followed by transfer to the lodge for lunch and relaxation.

Meals: Lunch and dinner
Accommodation: 2 nights at Le Mirage Desert Lodge & Spa or equivalent
Distance: 350 km on gravel road
Flight duration: Approximately 2 hours

Day 2:
Sossusvlei, Dune 45 & Deadvlei
Embark on an early morning journey at sunrise through the Sesriem Gate towards the breathtaking Sossusvlei. The day commences with a climb up the picturesque Dune 45, offering a glimpse of the expansive orange-hued landscape. Following this, an off-road excursion leads to the ethereal Deadvlei, a desert pan where ancient, desiccated acacias stand in a silent testament to time, creating a striking open-air gallery. For the adventurous, scaling one of the tallest dunes globally, known as the 'Big Daddy' or 'Big Mama,' is an option. The panoramic 360-degree views of the 'Sand Sea' from atop these dunes are truly remarkable. Sossusvlei and Deadvlei are renowned for their photogenic allure, ranking among the most captivating and frequently photographed sites on Earth.Later in the afternoon, a visit to the picturesque Sesriem Canyon awaits.
During the journey, keep an eye out for occasional wildlife sightings, including ostriches, oryx, bat-eared foxes, springboks, and possibly cheetahs, alongside diverse bird species that thrive in the desert environment. Following these adventures, the afternoon provides an opportunity to unwind and enjoy the serene ambiance of the Namib Desert.

Meals: breakfast pack, lunch & dinner.
Distance: 150km

Day 3: Windhoek, End of Tour
Today, you can enjoy a leisurely morning with breakfast before being transferred to the airstrip for your return flight to Windhoek, scheduled around 12 pm, weather permitting. Upon arrival in Windhoek at approximately 2 pm, we will arrange your transfer back to your hotel or to your departing international flight.
